What you will learn:

Select your HVAC sub with the knowledge to make confident decisions. In this seminar, you will learn how to compare bids beyond price; you will come away able to communicate intelligently about HVAC to architects, owners and contractors; you will learn about HVAC system selection; and you will learn how to read "M" drawings and the importance of getting LEED points. Includes Green HVAC—HVAC & LEED.

Who should attend:

Estimators, Project Managers, and Superintendents of commercial general contractors will find this seminar especially helpful.

Instructor:

The seminar will be conducted by noted authority Christopher Grawburg, PE of The HVAC Training Institute, Inc. He is a licensed professional engineer, estimator & project manager for a mid-sized design-build mechanical contractor. Chris is in a unique position in the HVAC industry. Not only does he work with architects and owners in designing commercial HVAC systems, but he also works with general contractors in estimating and project managing these systems.
